Willing Hearts has a soup kitchen and 300 volunteers, cooking and distributing some 5,000 meals a day for the poor and needy in Singapore, seven days a week. DJ Bernard Lim will discourse with this man with a big heart on why and how he put his Catholic faith into action, and the trials and tribulations along the way.*

2.00 pm – 2.30 pm      “Corporate Ethics and the New Capitalism”

By Willie Cheng, Chairman, Catholic Foundation

There is a resurgence of ethics in corporations. Much of it is a response to corporate scandals and the consequent regulations. At the same time, there is a new capitalism emerging, one driven by values and not just value, and focused on stakeholders and not just shareholders. Willie Cheng, a veteran board director, will discuss the trends and how moral capitalism is manifesting in CSR 2.0, social enterprises, inclusive businesses and impact investing.

2.30 pm – 3.00 pm	“Discovering the Will of God for Me in the Marketplace: Perspectives from Youths” By Mark Tang, Head of Markets, QCP Capital &amp; Board Member, Caritas Singapore; and Audrey Tan, Co-Founder, Circles of Angels &amp; Co-Founder, Playmoolah Youths are faced with a myriad of issues that include: How to align faith with life in a secular environment? When is it time to change jobs or live out God’s plan for us? Money, power and success vs. a life of meaning? How do we hear God’s call? Mark and Audrey will address these hot button issues for youths.
3.00 pm – 3.30 pm	Coffee Break
3.30 pm – 4.45 pm	Q&amp;A Panel: “Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Faith+Work But Were Afraid To Ask!” Moderator: Andre Ahchak, Director, Communications, Archbishop’s Office &amp; Managing Director, The Catholic News Panellists: Andrew Sng, Asia Managing Director, DPI &amp; Board Member, Catholic Foundation Dr John Hui, Deputy Chairman, Archdiocesan Commission for the Family Sr Wendy Ooi, FSP Peggy Yee, President, Catholic Lawyers’ Guild Gerald Lee, Office for Young People The conference wraps up with an interactive session with a select panel of leaders involved in the different parts of work and life in the Catholic archdiocese even as they are plugged into the outside world. They will answer your questions on matters such as the 10-year pastoral vision, family life, workplace conflicts, bio-ethics, fake news, social media, privacy, and more.
